The Art of Primitive Elegance

Call For

The rustic elegance of primitive, folk, historic or early Americana styles of art can be invigorating. We are looking for art that will captivate the imagination and enchant with its simple beauty – be it through dolls, jewelry, paintings, mixed-media works, teddy bears, or illustrations. We invite you to join this delightful form of handcrafted artistry and send in your submissions by November 15, 2009 for Stampington & Company's premier issue of Prims: The Art of Primitive Elegance, hitting newsstands April 1, 2010.

Please send artwork to:
