NEW STAMP LINE FEATURES VINTAGE FASHIONS WITH A TWIST

Laguna Hills, CA – January 16, 2009 – Following the success of Fanciful Whimseys: Dramatis Personae, Fanciful Whimseys: Portrait Gallerie and The Ink Blot Experiment, Stampington & Company is releasing the fourth rubber art stamp collection by artist and designer Sandra Evertson. This new collection offers a whimsical take on vintage fashion by combining elements from antique plates and engravings with touches of nature, including flowers, animals and butterfly wings.

Sandra Evertson's signature art collages have made her popular with crafters of all types. She has written five books, including "Fanciful Paper Projects" and "Fanciful Paper Flowers," and has been featured on the HGTV program That's Clever. Her artwork has also been presented in a number of Stampington & Company publications, namely Somerset Studio, Altered Couture, Art Doll Quarterly, Belle Armoire, and Somerset Life. Her previous three stamp lines, which highlight her unconventional collage style, have been among the best-selling stamps for Stampington & Company since their respective releases.

"Sandra's style has always been remarkable – she has the ability to merge authentic vintage elements to create stamps that are both contemporary and timeless," says Stampington & Company's Publisher and President, Kellene Giloff. "Fairytale Couture combines two of her passions – fanciful fashion and vintage ephemera – to form a collection that will inspire all stampers regardless of their stamping style."

Fairytale Couture by Sandra Evertson includes nine wood-mounted stamps (retail prices ranging between $15.95 and $16.95), and will be available beginning on January 20th through select retailers or
